

Event Management

Event Management Services

Tracking and trending incidents/events that occur in the healthcare setting is a critical function in managing liability risk. To satisfy this need, Pendulum offers a secure web-based Event Management System that will record and track all notices of incidents/events and provide the user with numerous mechanisms to trend risk potential. Because this system is browser-based, it offers an effective way to immediately capture information after an event has occurred.

The Event Management System has the capability to maintain all data relating to an event, including general information about the event, post-event assessment, event-type details, and department manager/supervisor and risk manager follow-up.
